

World Book Day on Thursday 5th March 2020

This year there is no emphasis on dressing up as a particular character, however, if your child would like to dress up, a simple costume is great.

Over the last few terms, we have been taking note of which stories and books have been particularly popular amongst our pre-schoolers.

These are some of our favourites:-

We have taken inspiration from these stories and planned set activities that relate to them such as:

- Drawing and decorating our own life sized Gingerbread people
- Making Gingerbread people with dough
- Hunting for Gingerbread cards around the garden
- Acting out 'We're Going on a Bear Hunt'
- Making cakes inspired from the story 'The Bear who would not share'
- Providing story sacks / props to 'Handa's Surprise' and 'The Gingerbread Man'

In addition to this, we have also supported our local library by attending 'Rhyme time' on Tuesdays where possible as an outdoor explorers outing. This has given our children more opportunities to explore different types of books through borrowing them as well as having the chance to listen to stories in a different environment.
